

Cut out the cards and stick them on the correct fact sheets about different types of germs. Colour the germs.

They can only live for a short period of time on objects outside the host.

Some of these germs can be helpful, they live in our body.

It can only survive for a long time when living inside of a cell in your body.

They help to produce yogurt and cheese.

They can cause ear infections, sore throats, or pneumonia.

It can cause the flu, chicken pox, and measles.

Some of them help us to digest food and keep us healthy.

The organism that this germ lives in is called the host.

Cut out the cards and stick them on the correct fact sheets about different types of germs. Colour the germs.

They spread disease through water.

They live in warm, dark and damp places.

They live in wet places and are made up of a single cell.

You can find them on plants.

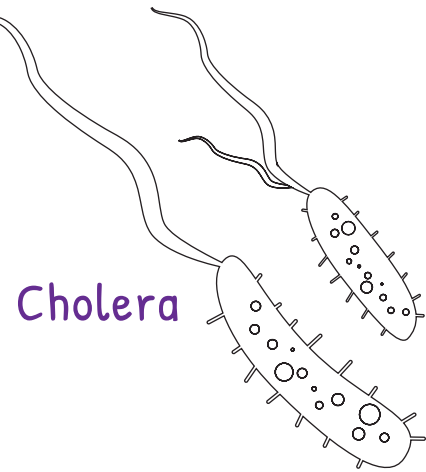

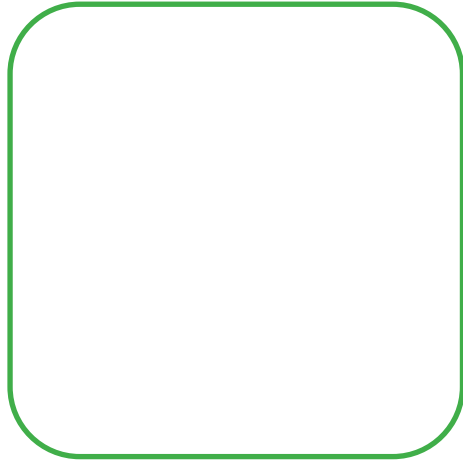

This germ is like a plant made up of many cells.

They can cause stomach ache, nausea and diarrhoea.

These germs can cause athlete's foot or skin rashes.

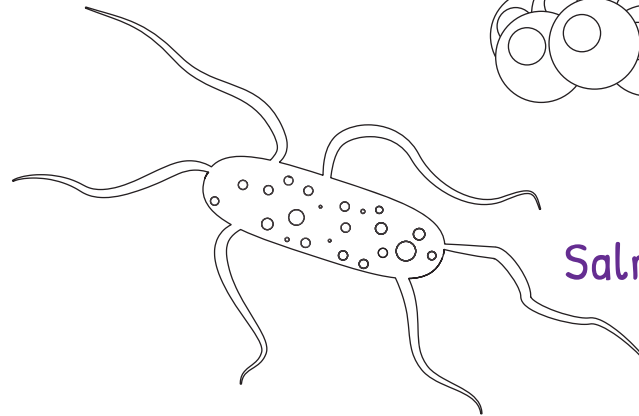

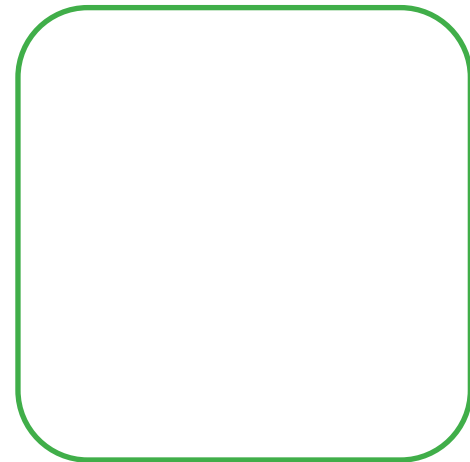

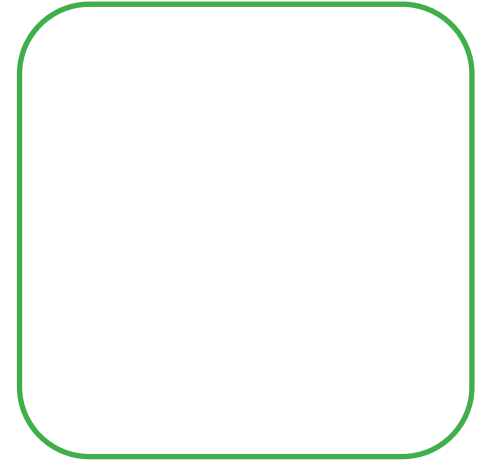

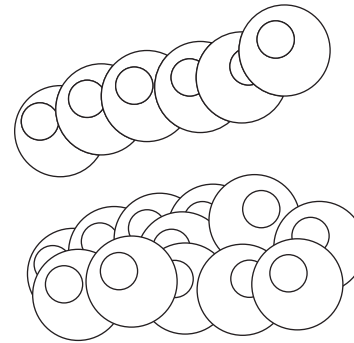

These germs eat bacteria and other food sources.

Bacteria

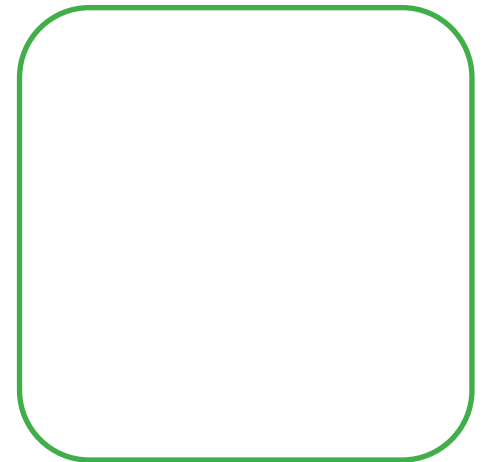

Cholera

Streptococci

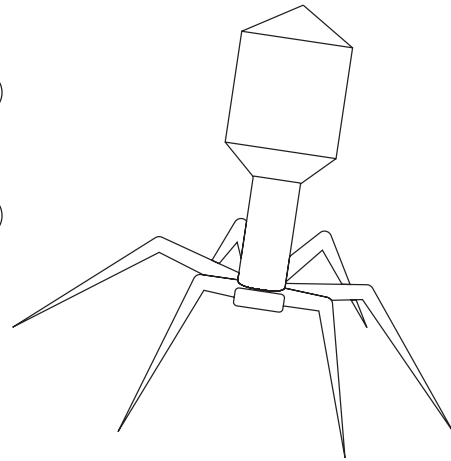

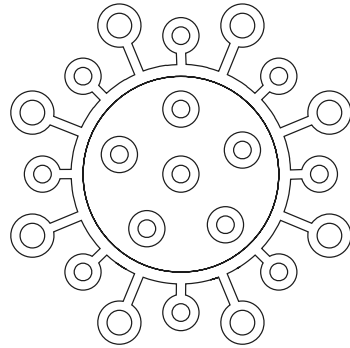

Salmonella

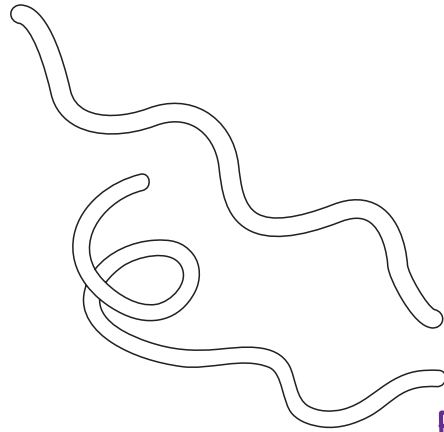

Viruses

Coronavirus

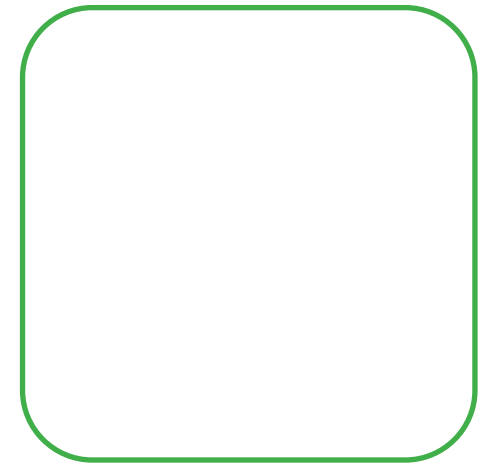

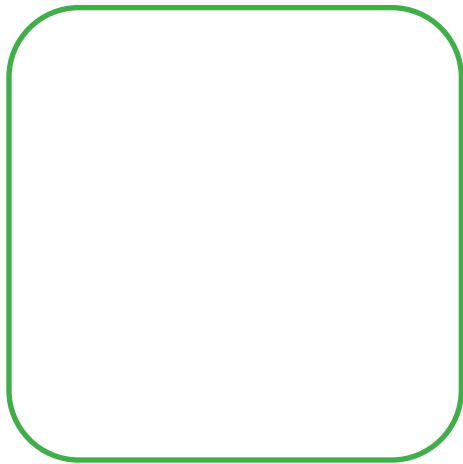

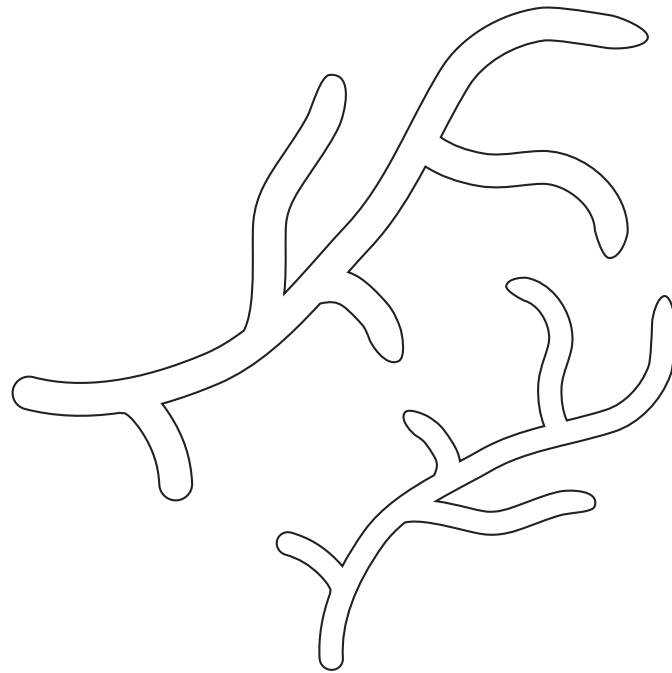

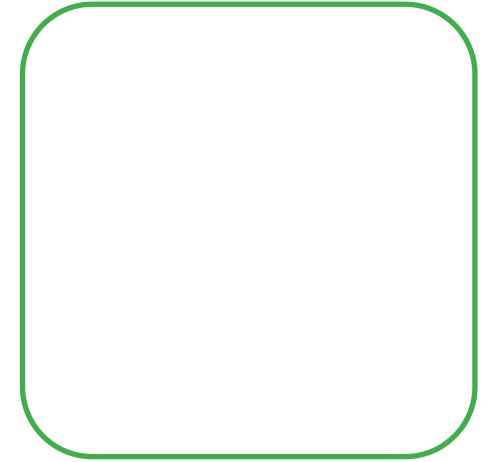

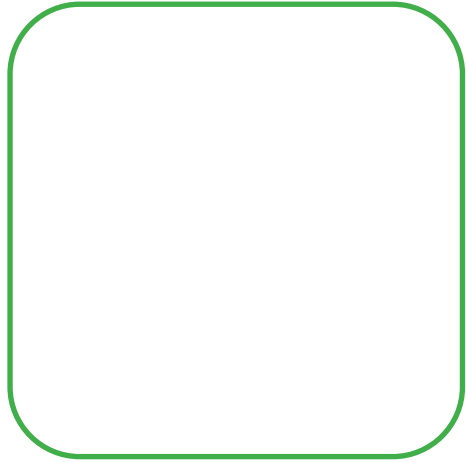

Bacteriophage

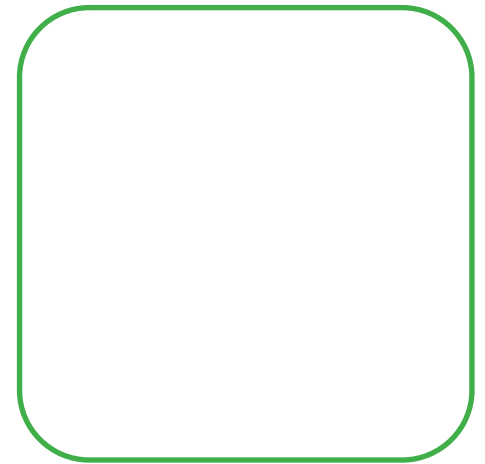

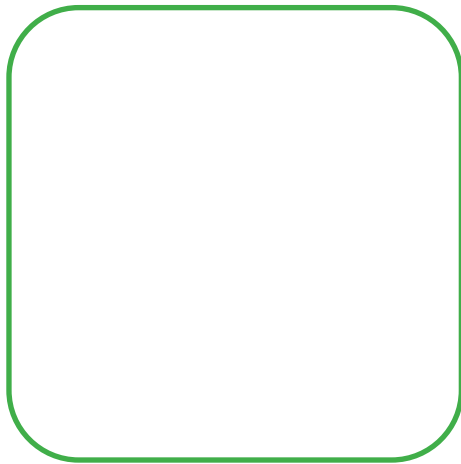

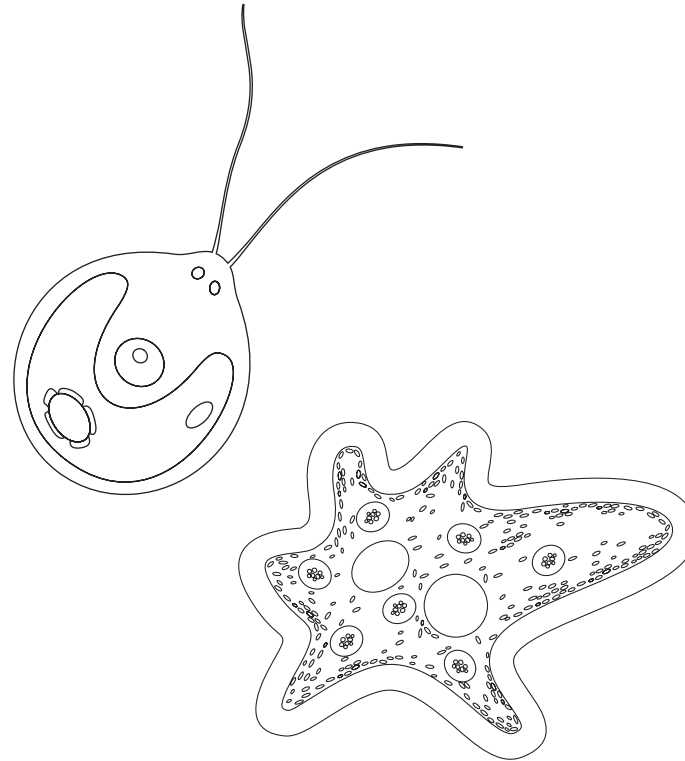

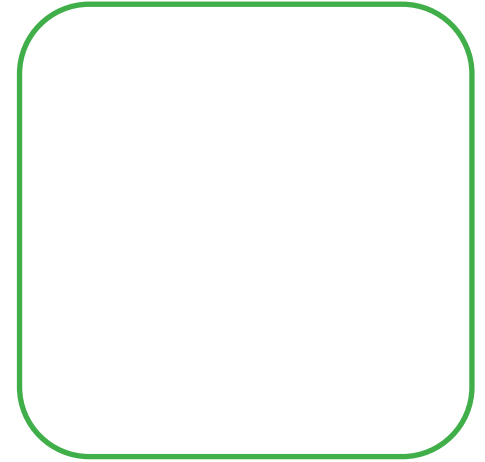

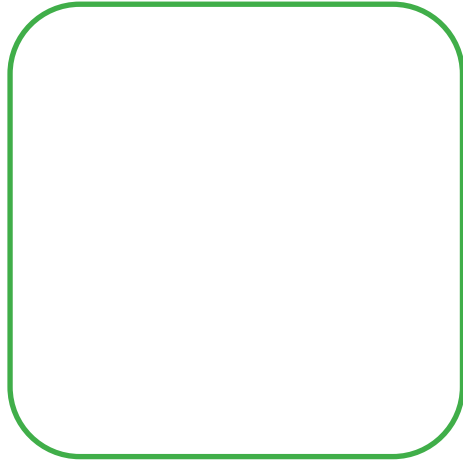

Ebola Virus

Fungi

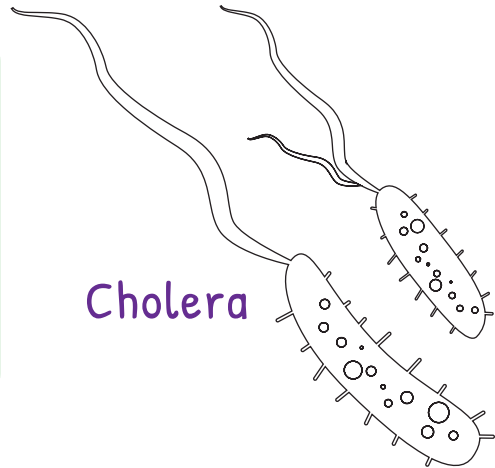

Protozoa

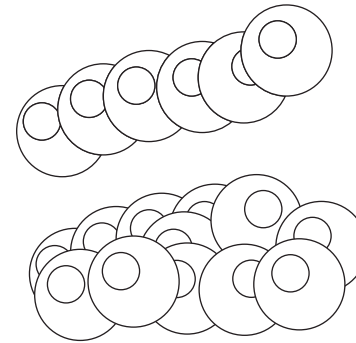

Bacteria

They can cause ear infections, sore throats, or pneumonia.

Cholera

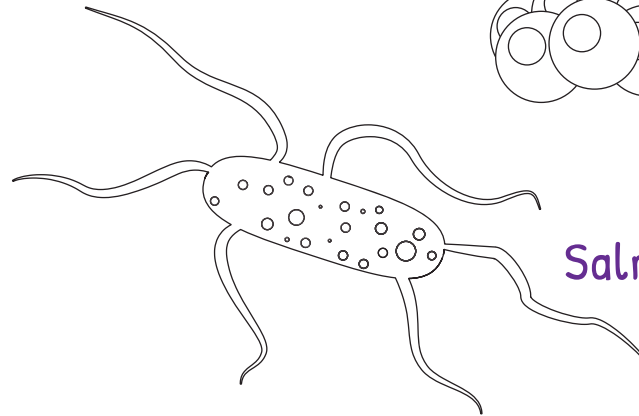

Streptococci

Some of these germs can be helpful, they live in our body.

Some of them help us to digest food and keep us healthy.

Salmonella

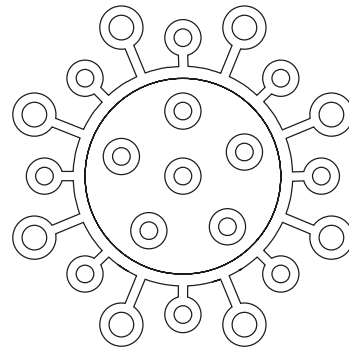

They help to produce yogurt and cheese.

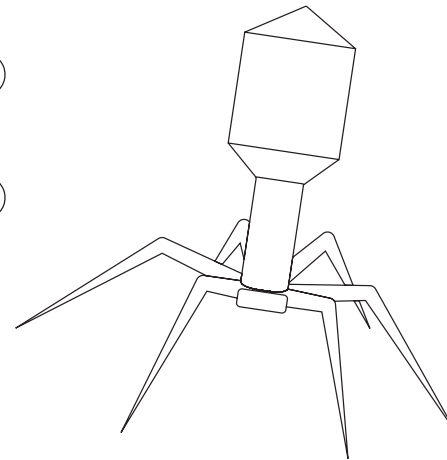

Viruses

They can only live for a short period of time on objects outside the host.

Coronavirus

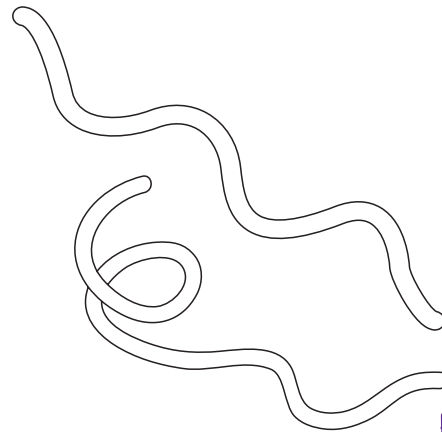

It can only survive for a long time when living inside of a cell in your body.

Bacteriophage

It can cause the flu, chicken pox, and measles.

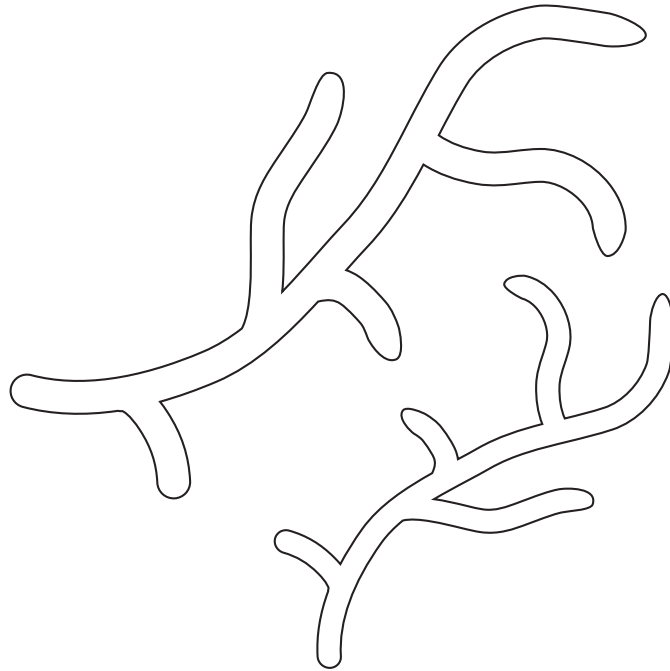

Ebola Virus

The organism that this germ lives in is called the host.

Fungi

It is like a plant made up of many cells.

They live in warm,
dark and damp places.

You can find them
on plants.

These germs can cause athlete's foot or skin rashes.

Protozoa

They spread disease through water.

They can cause stomach ache, nausea and diarrhoea.

They live in wet places and are made up of a single cell.

These germs eat bacteria and other food sources.